

Owl Fred and the Giant

by Robert Rosina

After

mum

puts out the light...

Owl Fred

sneaks

away

A detailed illustration of a young child with dark, curly hair, seen from behind, climbing out of a wooden crib. The child is wearing blue and white horizontally striped pajamas. The crib has a wooden railing and a blue blanket with a star pattern. On the left, a small lamp with a star-patterned shade sits on a bedside table, casting a warm glow. A teddy bear sits on a shelf above the crib, and an owl plushie is on the bed. The wall is decorated with star and moon decals. To the right, a doorway leads to a dark hallway with a large tree trunk and a hanging sheepskin rug. The floor is made of wooden planks.

Off to do

all the things^s

He couldn't during the day!

The
world

is full

of wonders!

It's different in the night

Some furry friends

lie

sleeping

